Notable features:

A fine representative row of early houses for working class and skilled mechanics employed in the B. & O. and iron works nearby. Modification in the windows, steps, and doorways have been made but the dormers are original and the proportions are still original.

See the illustration of the backs for the porches and rear dormers.

Environmental context:

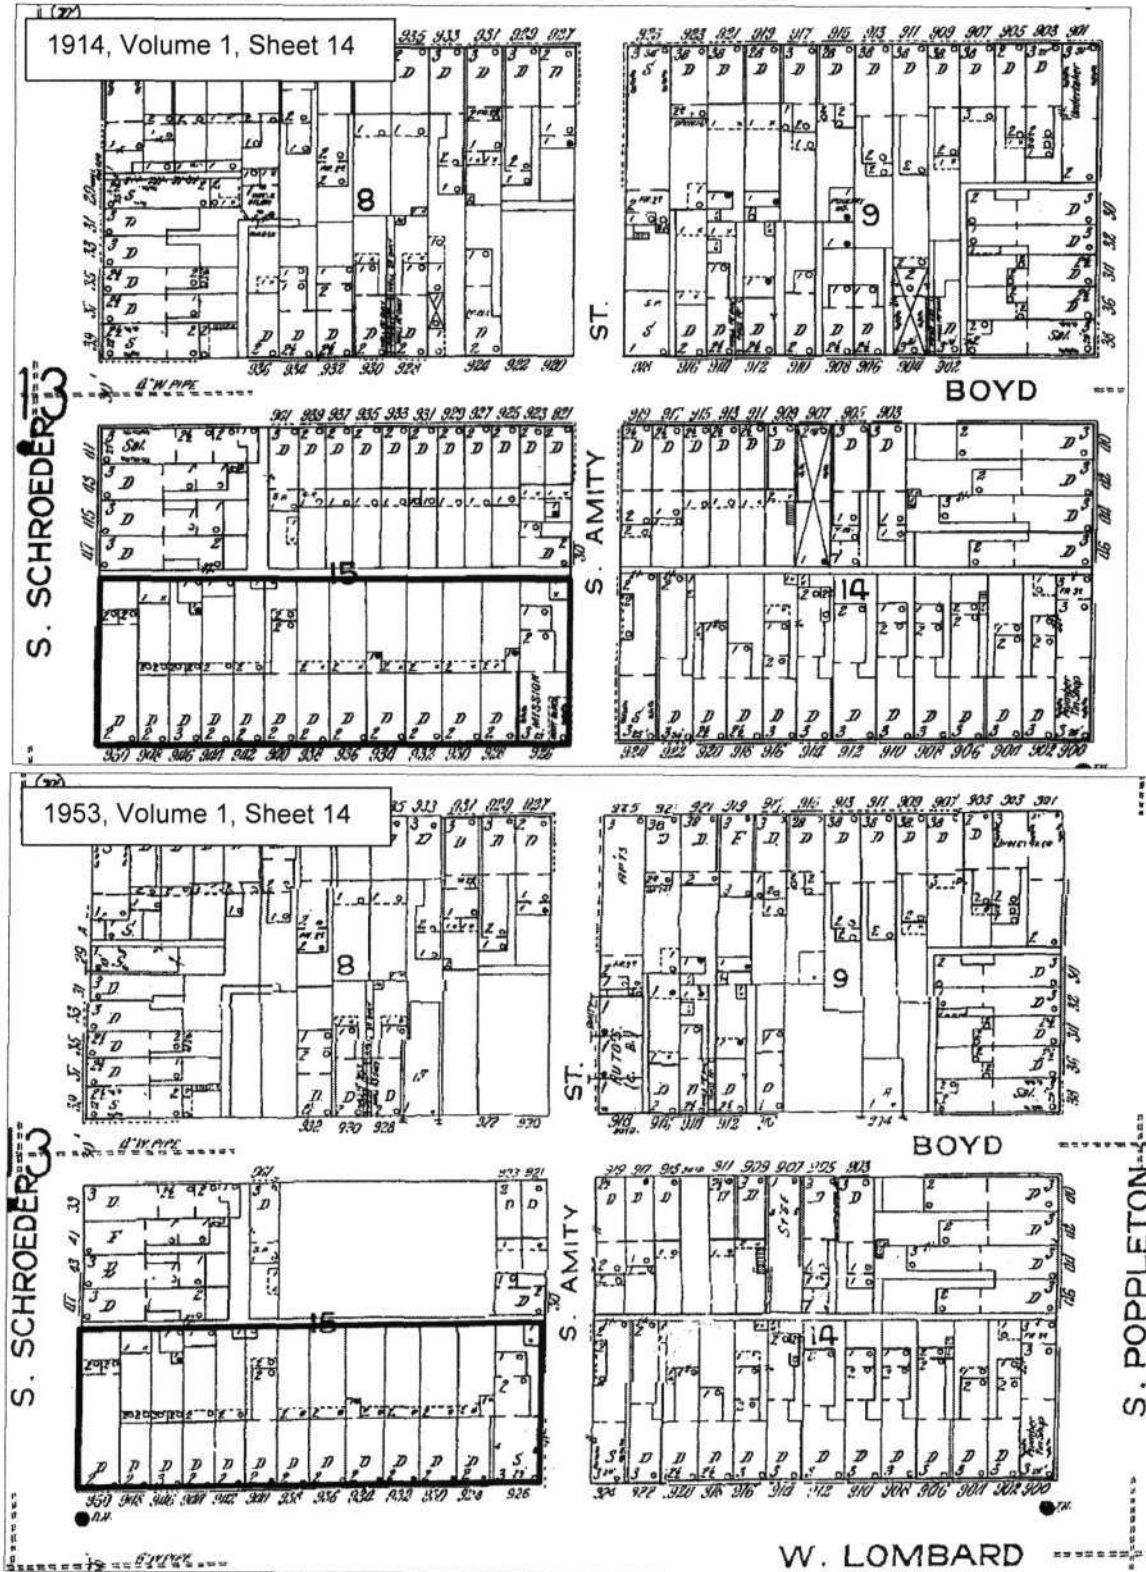

No vacancies or gaps; in good upkeep. Busy, noisy street; trees doing nicely. Excellent scale and continuity and across-street good also.
